“Small businesses are the backbone of communities and their success depends on a lot of hard work and support. I’m proud that the Bowles’ are celebrating their golden years here in Jeff.”

— Mayor Mike Moore

Jeffersonville Mayor Mike Moore, unable to attend the Open House, made a special early visit—bringing a proclamation declaring May 15, 2025, as Bowles Mattress Company Day! He toured the factory and shared stories about his and the Bowles family’s business roots in Jeffersonville.

Our Bowles 50th Anniversary Open House was a wonderful success—attendance exceeded our expectations! Enjoy a few highlights from this special celebration:

Exline Eats Catering knocked it out of the ballpark with their assortment of sweet and savory delights.

The Metro United Way brightened our sign-in table with a lovely bouquet, & several lucky attendees went home with some of our fantastic door prizes!

Chipper Fellows, grandson of our retired Production Manager Bill Fellows, provided a beautiful musical backdrop for the event.

Although many had already headed out, we still had a great turnout for the group photo. Big thanks to Nick Drudge for capturing it and to Kelly Hartley (Alice's daughter) for helping photograph the event.

With Gratitude

As we celebrate 50 years, our hearts are full.

We give thanks first to God—for His grace, provision, and steady hand through every season.

To our employees, past and present—your dedication, skill, and heart have shaped who we are.

To our loyal customers—thank you for trusting us and allowing us to be part of your lives.

To our supply partners—your support and shared commitment to quality have helped carry our mission forward.

And to the families, friends, and community who've stood beside us—thank you.

This milestone belongs to all of you. We are grateful beyond words.

With sincere appreciation,

The Bowles Family
